Georgi Šareski – guitar, composition

Marko Jovanović – harmonica

The music of Šareski and Jovanović is honest and unpretentious, a walk in the spring when life awakens. Like children on a playground, leaving their egos and doubts aside, Šareski and Jovanović meet in a pure celebration of the spirits, they have made music that is colourful and joyous, meditative and pensive, at times naive, and at other times deeply emotional, unusual and beautiful.

MARKO JOVANOVIĆ – harmonica

His sound is unique, honest and open, a musical embrace rarely experienced. Marko Jovanović, who plays both chromatic and diatonic harmonica, respectfully uses traditional playing techniques and combines them with modern ways of playing to create something new. In doing so, the Berlin musician with Serbian roots does not limit himself to one genre. Whether in blues, world music, jazz or free improvisation – it is all about the encounter in music, its expressiveness.
